Course Description
Teachers who enroll in Bulletin Boards and Room Environments will complete monthly bulletin boards and environmental decorations using commonly available materials, plus learn four simple approaches to attractive and unique bulletin board lettering. Having been specifically designed to build confidence in the K-8 teacher with little or no previous art training or background in art education, this unique art course requires no “artistic talent” or “skill”.

Numerous templates for adaptation to individual classroom settings are included along with the course book, and are to be used for course completion. This series of well-planned bulletin board ideas includes both holiday and seasonal themes. Developed to support the National Visual Arts Standards, this course presents each experience in a simple, step-by-step format that guarantees enjoyment, learning, and success. To receive course credit, these bulletin boards need not be actually installed, but may be “arranged” on a table or the floor at the school site or at home, and photographed for submission to the instructor for review.

Students of this course will enjoy virtually unlimited access to the instructor, and will receive specific, individualized feedback in writing on each experience submitted in order to track their own progress through the course.

Course Dates
Self-paced; students may enroll at any time and take up to one year to complete assignments.

You have up to one year from the date of registration, and no less than three weeks (one week per credit), to complete the course.

Course Materials

Bulletin Boards and Room Environments, originally written and developed by Ralph Gomas, and now revised by Jill Gomas Faison, is the course book. This book contains not only a brief overview of art education and philosophy, but also in-depth instructions for completing all of the required experiences, as well as instructions for involving classroom students at a later date. A variety of materials commonly found in the K-8 classroom will also be needed to complete the letters, numbers, and bulletin boards. Additionally, a set of life-size templates is included and will be used to complete course requirements.

Course Requirements

2. Complete and submit the Teaching Space Survey for review.
3. Complete and submit photographs showing your required letters and numbers.
4. Complete and submit photographs of bulletin boards and room decorations to the instructor for review.

- Identified potential points of difficulty that their own students might encounter after having completed the experiences themselves.
  (National Content Standards 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6)

- Become confident in their ability to present any of the art experiences to their own students.
  (National Content Standards 1, 2, 3, 4, 6)
• Experienced firsthand different media techniques and processes, as well as their unique responses and communicative qualities.
  (National Content Standards 1, 2, 3, 4)

  (National Content Standards 3, 4, 5, 6)

Schedule of Topics and Assignments

• Complete the Teaching Space Survey and submit it to the instructor for review.

• Complete the four required sets of bulletin board letters and numbers. Photograph them and submit photos to the instructor for review.

• Complete the remaining bulletin board and room environment decorations as outlined in the course book. Submit photographs to the instructor for review. (These may be submitted in any order, and in “batches” of as few or as many as desired.)

Evidence of Learning

• Course instructor observed that the student completed the Space Survey in a thoughtful manner.

• Course instructor observed that each set of bulletin board letters and numbers were completed as outlined in course book as evidenced by photographs.

• Course instructor observed that specific requirements outlined for each of the bulletin board and room environment decorations were followed as evidenced by artwork submitted in photographs. (Requirements such as materials, size, elements, amounts, etc.)

• Course instructor observed a high degree of effort and involvement as evidenced by artwork submitted in photographs. (Effort and involvement should be clearly understood to mean personal investments of things such as time, care, self-expression, and exploration as opposed to “artistic talent”, or “skill” – which are NOT course requirements.)
Grading Policies and Rubrics

- The discernment between an A or a B is at the discretion of the instructor based on the quality of work submitted (see assignment rubrics).
- Coursework falling short of a quality equaling a B or a Credit Grade will be returned with further instructions.
- All assignments must be completed in order to receive a grade. In addition, all assignments are expected to reflect the quality that teacher-training institutions require of professional educators. If completed assignments do not meet this standard, students will be notified with further instructions from the instructor.

Rubric for Evaluating Assignments

Instructor comments adhere to the following rubric:

- Superior – the highest level of effort and involvement
- Outstanding – an exemplary level of effort and involvement
- Excellent – a great deal of effort and involvement
- Good – an acceptable level of effort and involvement
- Ok – a minimal level of effort and involvement
- Redo or Resubmit – failure to reach a minimal level of effort and involvement

The final grade will be determined by the level and frequency of comments earned. For example, a student earning all “Excellent” and “Outstanding” comments would be eligible for a grade of “A”. Work earning comments of “Good” and “Ok” would be eligible for a grade of “B”.

Students who enroll in this course for a letter grade must earn an “A” or a “B”. As an example, receiving a majority of “Ok” comments would necessitate work being redone in order to receive a letter grade, since a majority of “Ok” comments would be less than “B” work. Work earning less than a “B” would demonstrate limited effort and involvement and therefore would not be worthy of credit. Students are encouraged to resubmit work at any time prior to course completion in order to improve their final grade.

Instructor/Student Contact

Instructor / student contact shall be facilitated in several ways.

Students will submit their Teaching Space Survey to the instructor for review and feedback.
Students will submit their bulletin board letters and numbers for review and feedback.
Students will submit the remaining bulletin board and room environment assignments in any order they choose to the instructor. These may be submitted in large “batches” or in smaller groups as is convenient for the student.
Each time the student sends in work for evaluation, the instructor will respond in writing to each experience completed in the hope that it will help students to better gauge their own progress and whether or not they are meeting course expectations.

Students are encouraged to contact the instructor by e-mail, phone, or fax for any questions, help, clarification, or encouragement they might need.
