Course Description

Google Certified Educator Level 2 is for students who want to become recognized as GCEL2-certified, with expertise in Google applications and in using the apps to improve student learning. Google for Education created GCEL2, which, in their words, "is for those educators who want to prove that they are advanced users with expertise in the use of Google classroom tools." The curriculum and exam go deeper than GCEL1 in understanding how the apps integrate to enhance learning and productivity. Applications include Documents, Sheets, Slides, Drive, Forms, Gmail, Classroom, Sites, and Calendar. Students with a current GCEL2 certificate are not required to take the exam or complete the Advanced Training. Previous GCLE1 certification is not a requirement.

The Google for Educators website, YouTube tutorials, and other online resources provide free instructional content and support materials. The exam, consisting of objective test questions and lab tasks with online access, is offered through an external provider at a nominal cost. It can be taken multiple times.

GCEL2 can be taken for 2 or 3 units. The third unit has hands-on assignments using Google Apps to create an interactive, individualized curriculum. Docs and Slides are the platforms for creating interactive documents and choice boards. You will learn new skills as you incorporate videos, playlists, phone/tablet images, shared media, hyperlinks, voice recordings, videos, dropdowns, smart chips, templates, and how to share your files with students.

This course supports national, state, and local standards and does not require student access. To find out more information about becoming a GCEL2 go online to the Google for Education Training Center.

Note: There is no required book for this course.

Required Texts and Course Materials

Exam Fee: There is a fee to take the GECL2 exam which is administered through a private company that is unconnected to FPU. The current fee is $25 with additional fees to retake the exam.

Technology Requirements: Students will need a computer/laptop capable of running Google applications and recording their voices. If needed, microphones may be purchased for under $10. Google applications are cloud-based requiring a dependable internet connection with enough bandwidth. Students will need a free Google account.

Active hyperlinks are utilized throughout the course and will link to the appropriate information when clicked. These include videos, podcasts, worksheets, online activities, journal articles, and other resources.

National Standards Addressed in This Course

National Board for Professional Teaching Standards (NBPTS)
(<http://www.nbpts.org/standards-five-core-propositions/>)

First published in 1989 and updated in 2016, What Teachers Should Know and Be Able to Do articulates the National Board's Five Core Propositions for teaching. The Five Core Propositions - comparable to medicine's Hippocratic Oath — set forth the profession's vision for accomplished teaching. Together, the propositions form the basis of all National Board Standards and the foundation for National Board Certification. Course assignments have been designed so students can demonstrate excellence against these professional teaching standards whenever possible.

- Proposition 1: Teachers are committed to students and their learning
- Proposition 2: Teachers know the subject they teach and how to teach those subjects to students
- Proposition 3: Teachers are responsible for managing and monitoring student learning
- Proposition 4: Teachers think systematically about their practice and learn from experience
- Proposition 5: Teachers are members of learning communities

Common Core State Standards (CCSS) (www.corestandards.org)

The Common Core State Standards provide a consistent, clear understanding of what students are expected to learn, so teachers and parents know what they need to do to help them. The standards are designed to be robust and relevant to the real world, reflecting the knowledge and skills that our young people need for success in college and careers. With American students fully prepared for the future, our communities will be best positioned to compete successfully in the global economy.

Online forums promote reflection and analysis while allowing students to appreciate and evaluate positions that others express. Forum postings are open to be viewed by all students in the course, so do not post sensitive or personal information about your students. While students may not be engaging with the same students throughout this course, they will be expected to offer comments, questions, and replies to the forum questions whenever possible. The faculty role in the forums is that of an observer and facilitator.

Coursework Hours

Based on the Carnegie Unit standard, a unit of graduate credit measures academic credit based on the number of hours the student is engaged in learning. This includes all time spent on the course: reading the textbook, watching videos, listening to audio lessons, researching topics, writing papers, creating projects, developing lesson plans, posting to discussion boards, etc. Coursework offered for FPU Continuing Education graduate credit adheres to 45 hours per semester unit for the 900-level courses. Therefore, a student will spend approximately 135 hours on a typical 3-unit course.

Services for Students with Disabilities

Students with disabilities are eligible for reasonable accommodations in their academic work in all classes. In order to receive assistance, the student with a disability must provide the Academic Support Center with documentation, which describes the specific disability. The documentation must be from a qualified professional in the area of the disability (i.e. psychologist, physician or educational diagnostician). Once documentation is on file, arrangements for reasonable accommodations can be made. For more information and for downloadable forms, please go to <https://www.fresno.edu/departments/disability-access-education>.
