Course Description

To plan effectively for change, leaders must know where they are, where they want to go and how they will get there. Strategic planning provides a framework to create, adjust, and align the organization's vision and beliefs with identified goals to sustain forward momentum and achieve desired results. The purpose of this course is to support the effective implementation of the Restorative Discipline program. In this two-unit hands-on course, participants will learn and apply practical skills needed to plan, implement, monitor and sustain Restorative Discipline principles. The course aligns with CE and NBPTS and may be adapted to support short-term and long-term planning needs. It is also highly recommended that a collaborative decision-making effort be used to identify and build consensus for the program prior to enrollment in this course.

National Standards Addressed in This Course

National Board for Professional Teaching Standards (NBPTS)

(<http://www.nbpts.org/standards-five-core-propositions/>)

First published in 1989 and updated in 2016, *What Teachers Should Know and Be Able to Do* articulates the National Board's Five Core Propositions for teaching. The Five Core Propositions - comparable to medicine's Hippocratic Oath — set forth the profession's vision for accomplished teaching. Together, the propositions form the basis of all National Board Standards and the foundation for National Board Certification. Course assignments have been designed so students can demonstrate excellence against these professional teaching standards whenever possible.

- Proposition 1: Teachers are committed to students and their learning
- Proposition 2: Teachers know the subject they teach and how to teach those subjects to students
- Proposition 3: Teachers are responsible for managing and monitoring student learning
- Proposition 4: Teachers think systematically about their practice and learn from experience
- Proposition 5: Teachers are members of learning communities

National Associations of Elementary School Principals (NAESP) and National Association of Secondary School Principals (NASSP)

In addition, the course aligns with the National Association of Elementary School Principals (NAESP) and National Secondary of School Principals (NASSP) leadership standards to support principals as the primary catalyst for creating a lasting foundation for learning, driving school and student performance, and to shape the long-term impact of school improvement. NAESP and NASSP standards align with this course to show what principals should know and be able to do:

- Standard 1: Lead student and adult learning
- Standard 2: Lead diverse communities
- Standard 3: Lead 21st century learning
- Standard 4: Lead continuous improvement
- Standard 5: Lead using knowledge and data
- Standard 6: Lead parent, family, and community engagement

This includes all time spent on the course: reading the textbook, watching videos, listening to audio lessons, researching topics, writing papers, creating projects, developing lesson plans, posting to discussion boards, etc. Coursework offered for FPU Continuing Education graduate credit adheres to 45 hours per semester unit for the 900-level courses. Therefore, a student will spend approximately 135 hours on a typical 3-unit course.

Services for Students with Disabilities

Students with disabilities are eligible for reasonable accommodations in their academic work in all classes. In order to receive assistance, the student with a disability must provide the Academic Support Center with documentation, which describes the specific disability. The documentation must be from a qualified professional in the area of the disability (i.e. psychologist, physician or educational diagnostician). Students with disabilities should contact the Academic Support Center to discuss academic and other needs as soon as they are diagnosed with a disability.
